Snow and Ice.

Detroit was visited Friday and Saturday of last week with one of the worst storms occurring for a series of years. Friday it snowed all day; ten or twelve inches of snow falling. Saturday it had turned to rain, freezing as it fell, and by Saturday night everything was loaded with ice. Telegraph and telephone wires looked like small cables. The trees were loaded down, in some instances branches breaking under the weight. The sidewalks and sides of the streets were a glare of ice, the crust on the snow being solid enough to bear up horses. Sunday, in the bright sunlight, the trees and wires sparkled and glistened like diamonds, and Grand Circus Park by gaslight excelled any spectacular scene ever produced on the stage. The trains we sadly interfered with, and in many instances abandoned.

In Ohio disastrous freshets resulted from the storm and immense damage was done. Throughout the west it was pronounced the worst storm of recent years; ice covering everything, and fine orchards almost completely destroyed by the weight of the ice breaking off the limbs of the trees. In some portions the running of trains was not attempted and it was not until the middle of this week that trains succeeded in regaining any degree of regularity.

In central Illinois the storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning, the wind blowing a gale, and the thermometer being far below the zero mark. The heavy snow compelled the abandonment of railroad travel, and in Milwaukee in the afternoon business was virtually suspended. Two Union Pacific trains were snow-bound at Sherman and Green River, in Utah. In the cattle ranges the snow was a foot deep on the level, and unless a thaw or heavy wind speedily comes losses in stock are anticipated.

The Salt Well.

Robert Omer succeeded in getting the most of the $750 to be raised among our citizens to secure the continuance of the work at the salt well, and felt confident the remaining sum could be easily raised and was authorized by Mr. McArthur to go on with the work. Monday additional tubing was ordered, to enable them to prosecute the work, when a new difficulty arose. Mr. Coryell, the contractor, refused to go on with the work to the depth required, and ordered his men to draw the tubing and get out what poles they could. The drawing of the tubing would have, in all probability, been disastrous, and the directors served an injunction on them, through the Sheriff, forbidding them drawing the tubing. Thus the matter stands. The probabilities are that some arrangement will be made to continue the work. Mr. McArthur is absent, and no definite arrangements will be made until he returns. We are confident some action will be taken to insure the further prosecution of the work, and the hole put down, if possible.

Serious Accident.

Yesterday morning a brakeman, named A. L. Kitridge, employed on the Michigan Central met with quite a serious accident at the depot while coupling cars. He was about to couple a way car next to the tender when the engine, in backing up, caught him between the tender and car, striking him just above the hips giving him a serious jam. Dr. Perrin, surgeon of the Cheboygan division was called and made an examination of the injuries, finding them quite severe, the man being injured internally; no bones being broken. The Doctor had him removed to the Farmer House, where he is being cared for. It was a very close call and he is not entirely out of danger yet although his chances for recovery are considered good. This is the first case Dr. Perrin has been called upon to treat since he received his appointment as surgeon of this division. According to his instructions, he telegraphed the full particulars to Dr. Farrand, Surgeon-in-Chief, Detroit.

The Aftermath society of the Congregational church will give a pound social next Friday evening, February 16, 1883, place to be hereafter published. Pound packages will be gratefully received by the members of the society, which will be sold to the highest bidder during the evening. Miss Julia F. Lee has kindly consented to furnish one or more of her select readings, if her health will enable her to attend.

Meeting of the Grand Lodge at Detroit.

The Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen met at Detroit, commencing Tuesday of this week. The delegates [who] arrived by Monday evening, took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Peninsular lodge of Detroit, the largest lodge in the state and one of the largest in the United States. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner, numerous speeches from some of the delegates present, interspersed with music by the glee club of the Peninsular lodge, was the order of the evening. The Peninsulars have nice rooms and their hall was well filled. The following summary of reports to the Grand Lodge we take from the Evening News, from which it will be seen the Order in the state is in a very flourishing condition, and constantly growing:

Grand Master Workman James W. Wood will show that during the past year new lodges were instituted at Escanaba, Manistee, Wales (St. Clair Co.), Bay City, Port Huron, Oscoda, Humbolt and Alpena, and 18 recommends that charters be granted them. The charters of the lodges at Dundee, Mt. Pleasant, Blanchard, St. Ignace and Escanaba have been surrendered. Cards have been taken by most of the members from the discontinued lodges to the new ones. The state has been redistricted during the year by general order of the grand master workman, the aim and desire being to build up the weaker lodges, infuse new life and vigor into such as were in a moribund state of existence, and thus enlarge membership without increasing the representation and expense of the grand lodge. He feels that the laws of the order are as near complete as possible; that the constitution needs but little change or addition; that the grand lodge should leave well enough alone, get through with its business with dispatch, adjourn and go home, but still he would like to urge the appointment of a medical director.

Experience has shown that it is asking too much of the executive to compel him to examine and investigate every application for membership. The expense of these applications under the present law is about $300 per year. The result is good but he is anxious to transfer this labor to where it properly belongs, the medical fraternity, and to have the expense borne by the applicant. There have been numerous requests the past term for a dispensation giving authority to hold public installations, and he recommends that some action be taken allowing the same. The order in the state is prosperous and doing good work; the increase may not be as large as some may have expected or wished for, but it has been a healthy and natural increase and just where it would do the most good.

The report of W. Warne Wilson, grand recorder, will show that during the year there have been 1,237 beneficiary certificates issued and five annulled certificates reinstated, making a total increase of 1,242. There have been 46 deaths and 390 beneficiary certificates annulled, a total loss of 436. The net gain for the year is 806. There have been issued in all 8,205 certificates, of which 1,133 have lapsed by annulment and 135 by death. The total number of beneficiary certificates in force, December 31, 1882, was 6,937. An elaborate system of tables will be submitted showing that at the end of the year 1881 there was $4,579 in the beneficiary fund. Fourteen assessments were made to pay the losses amounting to $88,000 dollars and there is now on hand $1,641. The expenses of the general fund have been $6,706 84, and there is now on hand $239 02. The total receipts and disbursements of the relief fund were $3,052 60.

The report of Grand Receiver S. C. Randall will show substantially the same thing as that of the grand recorder.

The finance committee will recommend that the grand lodge require that all beneficiary warrants shall be made payable at their business office in Detroit, according to the custom of all life insurance companies. Also, as there is not a balance in the general fund sufficient to defray necessary expenses until the next per capita tax falls due, that a temporary loan of $1,500 be made in such sums as may be required from month to month. They will recommend that as the resources are insufficient to meet the expenditures, the per capita tax be increased to $1 per annum, and that the assessment excess be abolished. Also, that they be authorized to hire a clerk for the grand recorder at an expense not to exceed $600 per annum.

The following proceedings of the last day's meeting we take from the Free Press:

The Grand Lodge of Michigan, Ancient Order of United Workmen, met at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and resumed consideration of the annual reports of officers, which were subsequently reported upon and approved, after which the order of election of officers was taken up with the following result:

G. M. W.—D. P. Purinton, Coldwater. G. F.—Chas. R. Bagg, Detroit. G. O.—E. W. Dodge, Lowell. G. R.—W. Warne Wilson, Detroit. G. Receiver.—A. M. Tinker, Jackson. G. G.—Geo. D. Slocum, Humbolt. G. W.—Phil. D. Reith, Jackson.

Delegates to the Supreme Lodge.—Jas. W. Wood, H. C. Sessions, W. Warne Wilson.

The per capita tax was increased from 50 cents to $1, and the sum of fifty cents that has heretofore been sent with each assessment was taken off.

It was ordered that all supplies be furnished lodges at cost.

The Grand Master Workman was empowered to appoint a medical examiner whose fees are to be twenty-five cents for each examination, to be paid by the applicant.

The matter of an assistant to the Grand Recorder was referred to the incoming Board of Trustees.

It was ordered that beneficiaries be hereafter paid with drafts on Detroit or New York.

The constitutional quorum was reduced from 7 to 5.

All decisions and general orders of the Grand Master Workman were approved.

The newly elected officers were installed, and the Grand Master Workman appointed the following standing committees:

Finance—W. D. Seymour, Ypsilanti; Chas. J. Murray, Homer; W. J. Weir, Rochester.

Judicature—W. H. Baxter, Detroit; H. C. Sessions, Ionia; G. W. Smith, Pontiac.

The Grand Lodge then adjourned to meet in Detroit on the first Tuesday in February, 1884.

Timber Lands.

Special telegram to the Inter-Ocean.

Among the bills introduced in the House was one by Mr. Valentine, of Nebraska, to regulate the sale of timber lands in the United States. It directs the Secretary of the Interior to withdraw from market the fine timber lands remaining undisposed of, which are chiefly valuable for fine timber of merchantable value. It further directs him to employ a sufficient number of examiners skilled in woodcraft to make an examination of the pine lands already surveyed, and report a full description of them, giving the quality of the soil, the springs and streams of water, the quality and quantity of pine and other timber growing thereon, the distance from navigable streams and railroads, and such other matters tending to fix the value of the land. It provides that a copy of this report shall be filed at the local land office, and a copy with the Secretary of the Interior. It makes it a crime for any examiner to file a false report, punishable by fine and imprisonment. After the making and filing of the reports the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to offer the lands for sale in the manner now prescribed by law, but the notice of sale shall contain a description by legal subdivisions, and the quality and merchantable value of the lands. The reports of the examiners are to be at all times open to inspection. Any land offered for sale and remaining unsold shall thereafter be subject to sale at private entry at their appraised value.
